Supporting Role

Date: 9th March 2016

As a web developer and IT professional, I understand and value the importance of high quality, reliable and trustworthy IT support. We are frequently asked to help our clients with IT issues beyond their website and this isn't something we offer within our business.

However, after working with Marco on several projects, I now have no hesitation to recommend his services to all of our clients and do so on a frequent basis.

One particular client, My Future Cloud asked me if we could help with a complex CRM and POS integration and I was very happy to be able to put them in touch with Marco for initial discussions which I believe has so far led onto 3 other jobs for My Future Cloud's clients.

I cannot recommend Supporting Role highly enough and would urge all members to use Marco's vast skill set and refer him with no hesitation.

Kind regards,

Chris Brown.
